CLOSER LOOK: He didn't have much to offer after encountering a little early trouble behind American Pharoah in the Kentucky Derby and idle since, now he'll try to get to that foe at a 12 furlong trip; he looked pretty good winning on the Dubai World Cup undercard at Meydan and maybe he's better second time in the states, but though the sharp overseas barn shows some confidence in him by trying this, it doesn't really look as if he's set to improve all that much; gets the services of a top local pilot, but doesn't figure to pose a serious threat today.

Jumped up to the Classic ranks after beating an overmatched bunch at Keeneland to break his maiden in his sixth career start; late runner got up from well out of it in the Preakness to run down foes who were exhausted from chasing gate to wire winner American Pharoah in a sea of slop; his style of running is not often successful in this heat and the big jump in speed figures last time out suggests he may be more likely to take a step back while returning in 3 weeks for this; barn's late running Kentucky Derby runner up last year, longshot Commanding Curve, beat just 2 runners home while finishing ninth at a shorter price in this race; new rider has won this race 3 times, most recently in 2001 with Point Given; prefer to back others for the money spots.

Looks to become just the 12th Triple Crown winner after showing his versatility in the first 2 legs of this series; he's worked well at Churchill Downs since the sloppy G1 Preakness score on the engine for a barn that won this race in 2001 with Point Given; his rider was in this same position last year with California Chrome, who was able to manage only a fourth place finish, and in 2002 for this conditioner with War Emblem who was unable to threaten longshot winner Sarava;

He enters this G1 stake with just a maiden win to his credit and though he had a little bit of trouble, he wasn't much of a threat behind American Pharoah in the G1 Kentucky Derby; late runner has made up ground through the lane in most of his starts so the added trip figures to help his run some, but don't know that he's good enough to step with this bunch; looms a big price.

Pletcher colt went into the G1 Kentucky Derby undefeated from 3 impressive starts in Florida but lost all chance of keeping that streak going with the slow start from an inside draw; he did run on well late and has had 5 full weeks to prepare for this grueling 12 panel contest his sire won 10 years ago; his barn has won this race twice, most recently in 2013 with Palace Malice, and combined with today's pilot to take the heat with the filly Rags to Riches in 2007; his rider also won this race in 2012 with Union Rags; he's been working well and expect he'll get off to a better beginning here which should put him on or close to the lead from the outset; this lightly raced colt looks to pose a big threat to get back on track off the 5 week break and rates -Steve Grabowski
