CLOSER LOOK: Avg. winning Beyer for this is 103; cost $375K so you know there were once expectations here; well, it's taken a while but the light has seemingly gone on as he's suddenly posted 2 straight wins including a smart N1X tally on the Ky. Derby undercard at CD May 1; even so, the Beyer wasn't any great shakes (81) so he'll surely need a significant move forward; but hey, daddy won this on his way to the Triple Crown, HOY and the HOF and HOF trainer Lukas knows what it takes to win one of these, having won 6; still must run a race he hasn't come close to running yet to have a say.

Made headway in the G1 Ky. Derby to get up for 7th; trouble is, he was far, far back early and never really in the race; sure, it's nice he passed so many, but let's face it, many he passed were giving way; remember, too, he saved ground until the far turn; you certainly have to like his 'try' and that he'll keep coming but his lack of speed routinely puts him behind the 8-ball tactically, leaving him with too much to do and giving some nice 3yos a headstart and first run; but hey, you need someone to fill out those tris and supers right?

The ensuing chaos aside, he was marvelous in the G1 Ky. Derby; not brilliant like Baffert's American Pharoah of Justify but surely harkens back to Baffert's Silver Charm in terms of guts and effort; Beyer went up, too; however, there may be issues; likes the lead but stablemate Concert Tour may be quicker and Midnight Bourbon's connections wanted the lead in the Derby but couldn't get it and could send here, meaning there's a chance he's outrun early and stuck inside with the possibility of getting shuffled back - unless he goes, goes, goes from the start, in which case does he go too fast?; Baffert tied for the most Preakness wins (7).

Whipped maidens at AQU Dec. 13 and in the G3 Withers there Feb. 6; that was enough to make him favored in the G2 Wood there April 3 but he never got into the race; skipped the G1 Ky. Derby as Brown already had Highly Motivated slated for that for these same owners; nice to see he scratched from last week's G3 Peter Pan to take a swing at this; still, he didn't show much spark at any point in the Wood so is he coming into this the right way?; at least he's not facing the strongest Preakness bunch we've seen and as noted he could have gone in the Peter Pan; Brown won this in 2017 with same owner's Cloud Computing.

The way he won his first 3 starts, including a romp in the G2 Rebel at OP March 13, stamped him one of the favorites for the G1 Ky. Derby; however, after dueling early in the G1 Arkansas Derby as the 3-10 favorite he faltered to end up 3rd; not only was that disappointing, they didn't feel good enough about him to even try the Derby; worked well since and has speed but he'll not only likely need it to flee this outside post, what's he to do if Midnight Bourbon and stablemate and Derby winner Medina Spirit send early, too?; Baffert tied for the most Preakness wins (7). -Michael Hammersly
