CLOSER LOOK: Would be a shocker after posting his new Beyer speed figure Top in the Santa Anita Derby when no match for the winner or runner-up who finished 9th and 12th respectively in the Kentucky Derby; deep closing style fits the added yardage stretching out to longest ever for this; his exacta finish was from post 1 and Justify won the BEL Stakes from the rail draw; others appeal more.

The maiden victory on Derby Day represents a co-best-last-race Beyer which prompts the huge class hike into this Grade 1; without much pace here there is a chance he makes the front end today stretching out 1.5F from his previous longest distance; Pletcher also has deep closer Renegade suggesting even more we see him on or near the lead; wish we saw more from his Tampa Derby as the runner-up finisher Beyered 106 in his next-out KEE-G1 Blue Grass score then finished 11th in the Derby; beat the debut show runner who posted an 89 speed figure in his next-out GP-MSW victory.

Almost every runner in the field had a rough Kentucky Derby trip but his may have been the worst but was picking off runners late and worked a SAR training track bullet for this; considering he is likely to be well supported at the betting windows and his last 3 starts are all losses vs. similar rivals have him ranked a notch below the top contenders.

Nearly overcame a 40-year losing streak from post position 1 in the Kentucky Derby getting a nightmare trip from the rail; back to Saratoga dirt where he is 1 of 2 with experience over the track but posted a career-low speed figure here; exits a co-best- last-race Beyer when seemingly hopelessly beaten at the quarter pole but came with an explosive rally to make the front end then simply didn't see Golden Tempo who nailed him at the wire; the pace was hot in Louisville but doesn't seem that way here but has uncoupled barn-mate speedy Powershift to go fast up front; the pick.

Is the lone runner in the field to have won gate to wire as the pace here looks up for grabs; came out of the gate next to last in the Blue Grass but expecting him to be up close early for this; 60 days since no match for the winner of last who is simply a Keeneland freak but finished 11th in the Kentucky Derby; his Withers loss was not very memorable posting a career-low Beyer 2-back.

Ran down the speed in the Peter Pan as the even money choice and hard not to love the improving Beyers as he hasn't done much wrong as a 3-year-old but gets to test the deep waters in this Grade 1; Brown has 3 in here so trying to figure out which one will be the pacesetter is pace presser is the issue but he is a candidate stalking a good pace in his MSW Mile win; Prat went to Emerging Market for this.

3-back represents the field's-best Beyer speed figure; capable on best; was crunched between horses in deep stretch of the Kentucky Derby when he had a relatively good trip before that considering how roughly run that race was; in his Florida wins was a lot closer to the pace; his numbers suggests he is dangerous on his best day; view as a late running exotics possibility.

Considering his running style winning with mid pack rallies including beating the Kentucky Derby winner in the Louisiana Derby, was shocked he was up-close to that hot pace in last; 1 of 3 from trainer Brown; faded from the scene but expecting a lot better effort especially considering Prat who has wins on 4 of these in the field takes this one; contender.

Since adding blinkers 2 starts ago he has become a new and improved runner; exits a co-best-last-race Beyer when completing a rare feat rallying to win the Kentucky Derby last to 1st; the last runner back to do that in 2009 Mine That Bird was another imp robable Derby longshot winner who went on to finish 3rd in the BEL Stakes; gets the same distance as the Derby but the pace here is the concern because they went fast early in Louisville which set up his late blast; the one to beat. -Art Gropper
